

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: One Year $2.00 Six Months 1.00 Three Months .75

We would again advise our readers to look over the ads of this great religious weekly. Live merchants advertise in a live paper and live people who read them save the price of their subscription many times over.

It is stated by exchanges that Portland is to have another morning daily paper. One has it that Harvey Scott will sever his connection with the Oregonian and will be editor of the new paper.

Enclosed please find check for which credit my subscription to your paper, which has become a household necessity. I think you are accomplishing much more than you realize in the development of the great inland empire.

THE MASK BALL.

The mask ball last night was one of the most successful given in this city for several years. There were a large number of maskers and some well sustained characters and a few costumes were exceptionally fine.

The prize for the best dressed lady character was awarded to Miss Etha Cavender as "Cow Girl" and Neil Smith as "College Graduate."

OREGON TRUNK TO KLAMATH?

Regarding future construction plans of the Oregon Trunk Line, a question has been raised as between Attorney C. H. Carey, counsel for the road, and John F. Stevens, its president, says the Telegram. Carey has returned from New York with the announcement that the Hill line will build immediately to Klamath Falls, while President Stevens in an official statement replying there to uses language which Theodore Roosevelt would boil down to one short ugly word.

ing to Klamath Falls, President Stevens' signed statement anent the controversy follows: "Statements now being published, apparently by authority, that the Oregon Trunk Railway will without delay, build its line through Central Oregon to Klamath Falls, are entirely wrong and misleading, as it has not decided upon any such plan. It has filed maps through Government land is as far south as the Klamath Indian Reservation, and is making some surveys in the reservation, but these surveys will not be continued to Klamath Falls, and the line as now located to the Indian Reservation may or may not be constructed. All that is now definitely decided is that it will probably build as far south as Bend, leaving the question of further extensions an open one. The filing of maps is no conclusive proof of intention to build—if it was Oregon would have more railroads now than it could possibly need."

THE REVIVAL PROGRESSES.

Rev. W. H. Gibson, missionary of the Grande Ronde Baptist Association, who arrived in this city on Saturday last and is now assisting Pastor C. W. Holloman in a successful revival meeting in the First Baptist Church is no stranger to Burns nor to Harney Valley. He labored here in '94, '95 and '96 and did a successful work. He has many friends in the city with whom he is delighted to meet and who in return are enjoying his ministrations in gospel services.

The Sunday program will be full of interest. Special music in each service. After the Sunday School a sermonette to children will be given. Theme, "The Little Man up the Tree," then follows a message to mothers, "Mothers a Laborer With God." The young people's praise service at 7 will be followed by sermon, "Is it Rational to Believe in Jesus Christ?" Cordial invitation extended to all. Come with us.

LAND OF PROMISE.

Professor Charles Zubelin, formerly of the University of Chicago, predicted a wonderful future for the "Golden West" at a lecture at the Waldorf-Astoria. The lecture was the first of a series on the "Dynamic West," given under the auspices of the Women's Welfare department of the National Civic federation. Among those present were Miss Anne Morgan, Ida Tarbell and Miss Elizabeth Marbury. Professor Zubelin said the future developments of the west would far surpass the "most fabulous dreams of the most enthusiastic." He said that the Pacific coast would be a paradise, and that the Mississippi valley would some day be the seat of power of the world. Incidentally he gave a slap at the old time conventions, and stated that the progress of America lay in the spirit of the west, which was the spirit of youth.

"The spirit of spontaneity of the west will sooner or later place that section of country far in advance of the east," said Professor Zubelin. "One explanation of the progress that is going on along the Pacific coast is youth. We are old, the west is young. When the Pacific coast comes into its own the Mississippi valley will be the seat of power of the world. The administration will remain in the east, but the power will come from the west."

"Washington, Oregon, all along the Pacific coast, from Canada to California, will be the garden spot of the world. The Pacific cities of the future will far surpass the most fabulous dreams of the most enthusiastic. Although familiarly known as the large tail to the eastern dog, it is not such a long time hence when the tail will move the dog. "Once the west grasps an idea there is no delay. While New York took 10 years in which to build a new theater Denver accomplished the same thing in one night. The mayor opened the auditorium as a municipal theater. "There is more freedom in the west than in the east. People are not held down by conventionality."

STAG SULKY PLOW The Stag is one of the latest and best additions to the famous Deere Line of Riding Plows. Is light in weight, simple and durable in construction—full of genuine merit, and has shown its mettle and utility in every test it has been put to. It has amply demonstrated by its good work its right to be classed as a strictly "up-to-date, high-class farm tool. It is certain to suit the most critical farmer and be a money-maker and a labor-saver for him. "If It's a Deere—It's Right" and does its work perfect ease to the operator and team. It is manufactured and sold as a tongueless plow—a tongue not being necessary to best results, but one is supplied at slight cost to those who prefer it that way. The Stag is the simplest riding plow built,—anyone who can hook up a team and drive 'em straight can operate it successfully. It possesses many superior features not found on other plows, and it takes a whole book to illustrate and describe them. Better write for it today and all the information you want about this superior implement. C. H. VOEGTLY
